

The paragraphs below came from Science from Scientists. The wonderful irony is that when I started FEEE it was to bring technology to the schools and students:

The Foundation for Excellence in Education in Easton held its annual Volleyball Tournament on November 20th in support of our during-school program in Easton. The event raised nearly $15,000 to sustain the program through the end of academic year at Easton Middle School!

"In the past the Foundation for Excellence in Education in Easton has raised funds to purchase technology as needed in the town's schools. This year the foundation has changed its mission and has turned to funding specific projects and programs designed to support the superintendent's strategic plan. Science from Scientists is a program where practicing scientists come in the sixth-grade classrooms each week to teach hands-on collaborative science modules that are closely aligned with the Easton Middle School science curriculum."

This is our first year in Easton and we are thrilled to continue the partnership for many years to come.
